- The Queue works by always showing the item on the far left first
- Flippy keeps track of all the pickup, cook, and drop-off times, so the food that will be ready first is always on the left
- Even if you prioritize certain food, it might not move to the front of the line because it depends on how long each food takes to cook
- For Example, if Flippy is cooking fries and you prioritize chicken, the fries will still be ready first since they cook faster, so they stay at the front of the queue
